Chapter 1 by Will Coloff

I was always scared of spiders, but now, I'm Terrified of them, standing right infront of me, was a 6 foot nopespider

Chapter 2 by Faye Lynch

You maybe wonder how I found myself here. On a regular day, I might have wondered that too, but right now, with this spider in front of me, it was not my first instinct to wonder how or why I was here, I needed to get away.

Unfortunately, I couldn't convince my legs to move. I just stood there, cowering. I couldn't believe my eyes. It stared at me like I would be it's next meal.

I was the prey.

It spit it's venom on me. I felt dizzy. I couldn't figure out what was going on. My vision became so blurry...

I did wake up.

When I opened my eyes, I

I noticed two other humans, a boy and a girl, bound the same way I was, but they were screaming. They were crying. They squirmed in hopes to break free while I laid there motionless.

The spider approached the girl. She screamed in terror as the spider sunk it's fangs into her. The boy passed out. The girl's screaming slowly turned into whimpering and eventually, faded into silence.

When the spider released her, her shriveled up body slouched down. It was quite morbid, but my brain couldn't convince my body to scream. I just laid there as the spider now approached me.

Chapter 3 by Will Coloff

I moved my hand up to my pocket and grabbed my swiss army knife. My dad taught me to carry one at all times, even to sleep. I started to cut the silk but this stuff is strong, 3 strings, 4 strings. God this is taking forever, Uh-Oh, it's right in front of me. Its about to bite me. Oh shit, OH SHIT BANG What the hell? Spider guts splattered my face. I looked over and saw a man with a shotgun cutting the silk on the boy. He woke up and started screaming. He calmed down when when he saw the man cutting his silk "Thank you" He said. He finished with the boy and walked over to me and started cutting...

Chapter 4 by Glendon Epperson

NO SPIDER ALLOWED

Chapter 5 by RebekahAnn

I thanked the man and started down the web of sticky silk. All of the sudden, out of no where there where baby nopespiders coming out of an egg sack. They were huge, and they looked hungry. As fast as I could I hurried down the web. But the man was still up there. One by one the baby nopespiders were crawling on him. He was screaming like crazy he didn't miss a shot. I needed to stick with this man, because he may be I needed protection. I needed help.

Chapter 6 by Bella Mae

Before I continue to tell my story, here is a few things you need to know:

Here is my guide on

HOW TO AVOID INTERGALACTIC GIANT SPIDERS

Step One: Stay away from girls named Mandy who say the have a "amazing portal to another realm" even if they aren't lying.

Step Two: Never go into that said "amazing portal to another realm" because you want to prove your totally hypothetical friend Mandy wrong.

Chapter 7 by Bella Mae

His name was Doctor Jengel Ashton. I don't know why he called himself a doctor. He definitely didn't have a degree. He came out of no where and started doing some ninja mumbo jumbo. Looking back, it was actually kinda cool, but right then it was really not. I started screaming, louder anyway, and ran.

Chapter 8 by Lukas LePage

I ran and ran until I couldn't feel my legs anymore. I stopped when I could no longer hear the screams of the other people so I could regain feeling in my legs. Then I realized something, it was quiet, too quiet for a cavern filled with screaming people and giant spiders. As I turned to peek around a corner there the biggest nopespider I had ever seen was standing right there ready to bite me. But right as I thought my fate was sealed and I was sitting down to embrace my death Doctor Jengel Ashton (who still wasn't a doctor) ripped out of the spiders abdomen. He landed next to me and together we watched as the ginormous spider bleed everywhere and die. He then took me to a smaller cavern inside the cave we were in and there was a portal
